Blood Program Here To Be Dropped Because Of Lack Of Chapter Funds

Cut In Fund Request To Red Cross For Two Years Reason

The Board of Directors of the Calloway County Chapter of the American Red Cross yesterday voted to discontinue the Blood Program for Calloway County because the chapter does not have sufficient funds with which to finance the program.

The board acted after a committee headed by Robert O. Miller made a report to the board on how the chapter could be made solvent. The committee was appointed several weeks ago when it became evident that the local chapter was in serious trouble financially after their United Fund request was cut for two consecutive years.

Miller told the board that there were only two alternatives that he could see, one was to reduce the office hours of the executive secretary, Mrs. Jean Blankenship, and the other was to drop the blood program.

After some discussion it was agreed that with a war in progress and mounting service men "cases" it was not feasible to cut the office hours of the secretary.

The motion was made and approved to drop the blood program contingent on some other local agency funding it within a period of thirty days. If no other agency such as the Murray Hospital, or civic club, or other group makes known their intention to fund the program, then it will be dropped as of June 30.

The May 21 blood drive will be held as planned in order to give as many individuals the opportunity to give themselves and their families total protection as possible. If no other agency funds the program, total protection for Calloway County as a whole will end on June 30.

Total protection means that a person can receive all the blood he or she needs in the event of an operation, or accident at a minimum charge which is mostly for the transfusion itself.

Without this total protection a person needing blood must either find donors for himself or pay for it at the rate of about $25.00 to $35.00 a pint.

Local Red Cross board members indicated that they hoped that some club or agency would be able to fund the program, and that it was a decided step backward to drop the blood program.

Last year the Red Cross requested about $7500 and when the United Fund failed to make its goal, the chapter still continued to operate even with this handicap. This year, with a full scale war in Viet Nam in progress the chapter asked for a total budget of $8900. This was cut by the United Fund Budget Committee to $7500 and the chapter will receive approximately 90 per cent of this amount since the goal was 90 per cent completed this year.

If all pledges are met in the United Fund this year, the local Red Cross chapter will receive $6750, far short of its needs. The Blood Program costs about $1000 a year and the action taken yesterday by the Board of Directors was taken in order to keep the chapter solvent.

Other routine action was taken by the board. A Ford van was contributed to the chapter by the Tappan Company. The consensus was that the van should be converted into cash to ease the chapter's financial condition. Harvey Ellis, Charles Hale and Mrs. Coleman McDevitt were named to dispose of the van.

The meeting yesterday was the next to the last meeting of the current fiscal year. The chairman named a nominating committee composed of Holmes Ellis, chairman, Henry Holton, Robert Moyer and Harvey Ellis, to nominate all officers of the chapter for the meeting in June.

Miss Ellen Watson, Red Cross Youth Leader was present at the meeting yesterday.

Spring Conference Of PTA Will Be Held Here Friday

The First District spring conference of the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers will be held Friday, April 5, at Barlow Elementary School on Highway 60 with the Barlow PTA, Mrs. Wandell Stallons, president, as hosts.

"What Training Once Assumed by Parents Is Now Left To School, Church, and Community" will be the subject of the panel discussion by Mrs. Charles Hughes, Bear Creek Girl Scout Council, Chaplain Harley Dixon, Western Dixie Hospital, and Mrs. Nellie Lowe, department of education, Hickman County.

Registration will begin at six p. m. and a dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. Mrs. Frank Kolb, First District president, will call the meeting to order at 7:30 p. m. A report from the nominating committee for the office of secretary will be by Mrs. John R. Travis of Benton.

Mrs. Melvin Earles, publicity chairman, will announce the winners of the publicity books award. The Kirksey PTA won the award last year.

Members from the PTA units in Murray and Calloway County are expected to attend the spring conference.

North Vietnam Ready To Send Representatives They Say

By MERRIMAN SMITH

UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hanoi announced today it was ready to send envoys to meet with U.S. officials to discuss "the unconditional cessation of bombing and all other acts of war" against North Vietnam. President Johnson was said to be "very interested."

He said he was convinced meaningful peace talks could take place — perhaps within a few days — once "all the bombing and other acts of war against North Vietnam are ended."

In its official reply to Johnson's bid Sunday night that "peace talks begin promptly," Hanoi Radio said in a Vietnamese-language broadcast picked up and translated by U.S. monitors:

"The North Vietnamese government declares its readiness to send its representatives to make contact with U.S. representatives to decide with the U.S. side the unconditional cessation of bombing and all other war acts against the DRV North Vietnam so that talks could begin."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., who said he was with the President at the White House when word came of North Vietnam's announcement, said Johnson was "very interested in this development."

State Department officials carefully studied initial reports of the North Vietnam proposal. They were considering all its ramifications even though Hanoi did not appear to have budged from its condition that all bombing and acts of war should stop before serious peace talks begin.

Diplomatic observers pointed to the part of the Hanoi statement saving the United States "has not correctly and fully responded" to North Vietnam's conditions for peace talks.

Johnson, in his nationwide speech, declared his desire "to bring about a reduction in the level of violence" in Vietnam.

"I call upon the United Kingdom and I call upon the Soviet Union — as co-chairmen of the Geneva conferences, and as permanent members of the United Nations Security Council — to do all they can to move from the unilateral act of deescalation that I have just announced toward genuine peace in Southeast Asia," he said.

The President said: "I call upon President Ho Chi Minh to respond positively, and favorably, to this new step toward peace."

French President Charles de Gaulle earlier today publicly hailed President Johnson's partial bombing halt as "the first step toward peace, and an act of reason and political courage."

Collision Is Reported

A two car collision occurred Tuesday at 9:15 a.m. according to the report filed by Patrolman Dale Spann of the Murray Police Department. No injuries were reported.

Cars involved were a 1959 Plymouth four door sedan driven by Jeffrey K. Broach of Murray Route One, and a 1964 Dodge Dart two door hardtop driven by James W. Bogard of 309 Woodlawn.

Patrolman Spann said the Bogard car started from a stopped position at the stop sign and the driver told him he did not see the Broach car that had the right of way on Vine Street.

Damage to the Broach car was on the front end and to the Bogard car on the right side, according to the police.

Offensive Is Launched To Lift Siege

SAIGON (UPI) — Elements of three divisions of U.S. Marines, 1st Air Cavalrymen and South Vietnamese troops have launched a major offensive to lift the 74-day-old North Vietnamese siege of the Khe Sanh, a U.S. spokesman announced today.

U.S. 1st Air Cavalrymen carried out a series of leapfrog helicopter assaults in Operation Pegasus against Communist positions in the area of the Khe Sanh. A strong force of leathernocks following in their wake cleared east-west Route 9 into the Khe Sanh garrison.

UPI correspondent Nat Gibson reported from the front that "unusually large numbers of American troops were involved in the operation in addition to the 6,000 or more Marines and Vietnamese in Khe Sanh. He said the number could develop into one of the climactic battles of the war."

Style Show Slated For Friday Evening By Murray High FHA

Eighty-five girls will be modeling clothes they designed and made at the ninth annual style show to be held by the Murray High School chapter of the Future Homemakers of America on Friday, April 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The clothes will include simple to make dresses, sports outfits, suits, coats, dress and coat ensembles, and formal wear made by the girls in their home economics classes taught by Mrs. G. T. Lilly.

Miss Jan Cooper, Murray FHA president, will welcome the guests. The narrators will be Mrs. John Belt and Mrs. Ray Brownfield. Special music will be Joe Forsee, organist.

Special music during the intermission will be by a trio composed of Misses Susan Nance, Linda Darnell, and Jan Cooper, accompanied by Miss Judy O'Neal.

Miss Mary Lee Brownfield has designed the program covers and the door decoration.

Ushers will be Misses Lou Ann Brown, Sarah Cooper, Leah Fulton, and Cindy McDaniel.

The style show committee is composed of Misses Nancy Holland, chairman, Debbie Doughty, Ann Hart, Becky Terhune, Judy Garland, Susan Kennedy, Ruth Titworth, Kathy Recker, Gedie Paschall, Pam Rutledge, and Nancy Paulk.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

Several To Speak For Youth Rally

When the "20th Century Youth for Christ" begins at the Calloway County High School Gymnasium on Saturday, April 6, its opening speaker will be Mack Wayne Craig. The speaker has served, since 1957, as the Dean of David Lipscomb College in Nashville, Tennessee. Before this time he served as the Principal of David Lipscomb High School from 1949 to 1957; therefore, he speaks to young people with a great deal of experience and knowledge gained from working very closely with them, a spokesman said.

Dr. Craig, who holds his Ph.D. degree from Vanderbilt University, has always worked very closely with young people while preaching for numerous congregations of the Church of Christ throughout the South. Having made his home in Jacksonville, Florida, he began preaching in Florida, but has spent most of his life in Nashville and preached there.

After graduating from Vanderbilt in 1946, as Phi Beta Kappa and Magna Cum Laude, he began teaching at David Lipscomb High School and has been associated with that school since that time. He is also regular writer for the Gospel Advocate, writing for "Senior Gospel Quarterly" and editing a column in "Youth for Christ."

Although Dr. Craig will only speak at the 1 p.m. assembly, there will be programs at 2, 3, and 7 p.m. on Saturday, and at 10 and 11 a.m., and 2 and 7 p.m. on Sunday. The program is sponsored by the Christian youth of Calloway County.

Regular Meeting Of Hazel Club Is Set

Mrs. Tony Jones, president of the Hazel Woman's Club, has announced that the regular meeting will be held Thursday, April 4, instead of the regular time.

The members will meet at the club room in Hazel at 6:30 p.m. to go to the Thurman Furniture Store in Murray for the program on "Home Decoration."

Following the program the group will go to the Triangle Inn for the business meeting and the refreshments.

Conigliaro Is Back In The Sick Bay And The Sox Are Hurting All Over; Eyes This Time

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Tony Conigliaro is back in sick bay and the Boston Red Sox are hurting all over.

The 23-year-old slugger, who was sidelined for the last six weeks of the 1967 season after being beaten by Jack Hamilton on Aug. 18, left the Red Sox in Pompano Beach, Fla., Tuesday and flew to Boston for an examination of his eyes.

Conigliaro, whose anticipated return is regarded as a key factor in the Red Sox' hopes for a second straight American League pennant, was batting only .143 in exhibition games. He had struck out 22 times in 66 at-bats, including eight off his last 10 appearances at the plate.

Bothered By Headaches
Conigliaro said on arrival in Boston that he's had recurring headaches this spring and has been unable to see the ball clearly. He was batting .287 with 20 homers and 60 runs batted in when the pitch by Hamilton caused him to suffer a concussion, a cracked cheek bone and several nasal hemorrhages.

The Red Sox made the decision to send Conigliaro back to Boston after he struck out three times in Tuesday's 5-4 loss to the Washington Senators. The Senators won the game on a ninth-inning homer by Ron Hansen, who hadn't made an extra base this spring until the blow.

Mike McCormick, the National League's Cy Young Award winner last season, and Woody Fryman, one of the Philadelphia Phillies' big question marks, turned in impressive pitching performances as the teams ended or neared the end of their Florida and Arizona phases of spring training. McCormick pitched six shutout innings and received credit for his third victory of the spring as the San Francisco Giants beat the Cleveland Indians 6-1. Ollie Brown drove in three runs with three hits to lead the Giants to their 14th victory in 24 exhibition games.

Knocks Out Eleven

Fryman, 3-8 with the Pittsburgh Pirates last season, struck out 11 and allowed only three hits in seven innings of a 4-0 triumph over the Minnesota Twins. Tony Taylor homered off Jim Roland for the only run of the game.

The Pirates closed out their stay in Fort Myers, Fla., with a 3-2 win over the Oakland Athletics. Jose Pagan's double was the big blow of a three-run fifth-inning rally. Sal Bando had two singles which figured in the Athletics' scoring.

Bobby Tolan stole home as pitcher Don Shaw went into a wind-up with the bases filled in the eighth inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 decision over the New York Mets. Ron Swoboda and J. C. Martin homered off Nelson Briles for the Mets, who suffered their 18th loss in 24 games.

Reds Triumph
Milt Pappas pitched five shut-out innings and Bill Lee added two as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Houston Astros 4-2. Lee May's double and run-scoring singles by Tony Perez and Vada Pinson led the Reds' attack.

Willie Horton hit a homer, double and single and stole a base in leading the Detroit Tigers past the Chicago White Sox 5-1. Early Wilson yielded six hits and one run in seven strong innings for the Tigers, who rapped 19-game winner Joe Horlen for three runs and seven hits in six innings.

Priceless Paintings Saved By Youths

ANTWERP, Belgium (UPI) — Hippies and students poured out of nearby dance halls and cafes today, dashed into a flaming Gothic church and saved priceless paintings by Rubens, Van Dyck and other old Dutch masters.

Church and city officials had given up for lost the paintings, valued at $10 million by some experts and priceless by more, as the flames of the 16th-century church

St. Paul's Church. But police found the paintings safely stored by the 60 youngsters in the cafes and dance halls next to the ruined church in this ancient port city.

"Thanks to the bravery of these young people, the paintings have not been lost to posterity," the church curator said.

The Belgian radio had broadcast the verdict of church authorities that the 40-odd paintings had been consumed by the fire that engulfed the Gothic church that dominated Antwerp's architectural scene. Only hours later did elate church officials learn the canvases had been gently laid on the floors of the dance halls and cafes.

The church itself was ruined. "The youths were magnificent. They ran in when the roof was burning and some parts of it were already falling," a witness said.

During the intermission musical entertainment will be by Donnie Elliott, Ronnie Thornton, and Kent Bucy, members of the eighth grade class.

A school spokesman said this promises to be a delightful evening of entertainment and urged the public to attend. The admission is 25 and 50 cents.

New Concord Class To Present Plays

The New Concord Eighth Grade Class will present two plays on Friday, April 5, at 7:30 p.m. at the New Concord School.

"Aunt Billie From Texas" and "Tchin' to Get Hitched" are the names of the plays to be presented.

POLITICAL BATTLE

BEIRUT — Clashes between supporters of rival candidates in Lebanon's parliamentary elections Sunday left three dead and 13 injured, officials said today.

SUGGEST INCREASE

WELLINGTON, New Zealand — The military advisers to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today suggested that member nations beef up their defense forces to meet an increased threat from the Communists.

In a communique issued three days after their meeting Friday the advisers said the increase would be needed because of "continuing and widespread Communist subversion, insurgency and open aggression in the treaty area."

LITTLE THUNDER — by Georgiana Dorcas Cedar — illustrated by Robert L. Jefferson.

The War of 1812 provides historical background for the fictional saga of the young Indian boy, Cricket, who adjusts to the white man's society by giving up his dream of becoming a warrior and going to school. Cricket observed the horrors of battle and earned the name LITTLE THUNDER.

MYSTERY OF SCORPION CREEK — by Wayne C. Lee — illustrated by Sarah C. Kurek.

When the strange terms of a will bring Chet Denison and his family to a farm they have inherited, unexplainable accidents begin to happen. Chet's father operates a small aerial crop-dusting business which he hopes to continue from the farm, but a hangar fire, a plane crash which injures Chet's father, and a flash flood that almost drowns Chet all add to the MYSTERY OF SCORPION CREEK.

A CHILD'S BOOKLET

by Mary Elizabeth Mitchell

ROSE'S WALK—story and pictures by Pat Hutchins.

A picture book that really lets the pictures tell the story. Pat Hutchins uses only 32 words in her text, but her colorful and imaginatively stylized pictures take the youngest child through the book with cinematic ease.

In this fox-chases-her story Rosie, the hen, strolls idly about the farm, unwittingly leading her pursuer into one disaster after another, each funnier than the last. Finally he knocks over the beehives, and swarms of angry bees chase him away.

Picture Book: Ages 3-6.

SARA AND THE WINTER GIFT — by Miriam E. Mason

Illustrated by Paul Frame.

Gift is the smartest, liveliest, most curious racoon of his litter. One day his mischief leads him astray—to the Wayne homestead.

Soon he is king of the cabin, and he knows it. Sara is delighted with her clever pet, and she is heart-broken when he answers the call of the forest and disappears. Sara is on her way to growing up when she realizes that wild things are meant to be free. This warm and humorous story, with its authentic pioneer setting, is the kind of book for which Miss Mason is well known. The easy-to-read narrative in a large-type format is ideal for the third-grader who is ready for stories more challenging than the usual beginning readers.

Storybook: Ages 6-10.

Places in America you can legally go 84 m.p.h.

Nevada is the only state in the Union where there are no speed limits on the open highway. So if you like to go fast, the more powerful the car, the better. But outside Nevada it's different. There are speed limits, a lot of traffic jams and an awful lot of red lights. Just a couple of things that make owning a car with a lot of horses pretty frustrating. So the more powerful the car, not necessarily the better the car. Case in point: the VW Fastback.

It cruises at 84. (With that much power in a Volkswagen you can break the law in 49 states.) It has an air-cooled engine. So it doesn't need any water or antifreeze for a radiator it doesn't have. It costs only $2333.25. And since the Volkswagen doesn't have a lot of extra horses, it can still go up to 27 miles per gallon. So what do you do with the extra horses in your big fat fastback? You feed them.

Our fastback is fast enough.

Personal Shower Is Given Sunday For Charlotte Young

Miss Charlotte Lee Young, April 14th bride-elect of Lester Keith Donelson, was complimented with a lovely personal shower at the community center on Ellis Drive on Sunday, March 31, at two-thirty o'clock in the afternoon.

The gracious hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Opal Smith, Mrs. Sarah Cunningham, and Mrs. Geneva McCaig.

The honoree chose to wear from her trousseau a blue-sheath dress and was presented a corsage of yellow carnations by the hostesses. Mrs. Young, member of the church, wore a blue dress, and Mrs. Lester C. Donelson, mother-in-law to be of the honoree, was attired in a blue suit. They both had bridesmaid gift corsages of white carnations.

Games were played with Regina McCaig and Jo Watson being the recipients of the prizes.

The bride-elect opened her many lovely and useful gifts including a special gift from all the employees of Rudy's Restaurant.

Refreshments of punch, cake, and mixed nuts were served from the time covered with a white cloth.

Seventeen persons were present and several sent gifts who were unable to attend.

Franklin-Hunt Engagement

MISS ANN FRANKLIN

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel LeRoy Franklin of Paris, Tennessee, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ann, to Hugh Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Haley Hunt of Calhoun, Kentucky.

The bride-elect, granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eli A. Gibson of Paris, Tennessee, and of the late Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Franklin of Knoxville, Tennessee, was graduated from E. W. Grove High School. She received a Bachelor of Science degree cum laude from Memphis State University and a Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology from the University of Tennessee, Memphis, Tennessee.

Miss Franklin is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta social sorority and is presently employed as a Medical Technologist at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital, Murray, Kentucky.

The groom-elect, grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hunt of Calhoun, Kentucky, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Mansfield Gibson of Calhoun, Kentucky, was graduated from Calhoun High School.

Mr. Hunt attended Murray State University and is presently employed as a surgical technician at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

The couple plan a June 14th wedding at the First Baptist Church, Paris, Tennessee.

Loneliness — Disease That Can Be Cured

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is dead, and I am all alone in the world. Loneliness is like a cancer, only it's worse. It doesn't kill you, it just gnaws at the mind until concentration and constructive thinking are permanently crippled.

When my husband was living, we visited lonely people and often took them for rides to the movies, and out for a meal. But now that I am alone, no one visits me. And no one ever offers to take me anywhere. Married people don't care. They have each other. Sundays are torture. They're endless. I am treated worse than a criminal. Perhaps if I were a criminal, some saintly person from a church group would call on me and try to save my "soul".

I attend church, but the church is paid no attention to me in my loneliness. I am not rich, neither am I poor. I am not beautiful, nor am I ugly. I'm too old to work, and I'm too young to die.

I know there is no solution to my loneliness, but perhaps it will help to write it down. Thank you.

DEAR LONELY: Your letter reveals an intelligent, sensitive woman, plagued by self-pity and preoccupied with her "loneliness." If you are able to walk, talk, hear, and see, and are not dependent upon charity, you are better off than some.

A sure cure for the blues is to find someone less fortunate than yourself, and do something for that person. (You won't have to ask for it.) There are lonely people everywhere. The only way to get it is by giving. Try it, and if you are still inclined to agonize over your solitude, the pain could be self-inflicted.

DEAR ABBY: There is a handsome new teller at the bank where I deposit the company checks, and he has me so fluttered I hardly know what I'm doing.

This morning after I made my deposit, he touched my hand when he gave me my receipt, and I nearly fainted. He has the most beautiful smile. Abby, and he seems to light up when he sees me coming. One of the girls who works at the bank said he asked her if I was engaged or going with somebody, so he must be interested in me. How can I let him know I would like to know him better without being too forward?

DEPOSITOR

DEAR DEPOSITOR: Just keep making those deposits, and watch the interest grow.

DEAR ABBY: It was with a great deal of interest that I read the letter in your column from the teen-aged girl who hemostated the age-old tradition that gives the male the privilege of asking the girl for a date instead of vice versa.

As a high school teacher for the last 19 years I have had an opportunity to observe the situation from close range. I have taken polls and discovered that approximately 10 per cent of my girl students know that it is the girl's place to speak to the boy first.

Boys tell me that 99 out of 100 girls will walk past them in the halls without so much as a "hi." No boy would consider the girl "forward" were she to speak first. The girl who is friendly enough to say "hi" first is usually the one who comes to mind when he wants a date for that special occasion.

CONFIDENTIAL TO J. L.: Keep quiet. No man wants an honest opinion of a horse after he's bought it.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"MOST WANTED"—Habitual bank robber George Benjamin Williams (above), who has spent most of his adult life behind bars, is a new name on the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives." Williams, 56, is a native of Oregon, is 5-feet-8, weighs 155, has blue eyes and a ruddy complexion. Tip of ring finger on his right hand is missing.

Bird Ban Lifted
NEW YORK (UPI)—A 48-year federal prohibition has been repealed and South American parrots and other tropical, brilliantly plumed birds can compete with canaries and parakeets for the affections of American bird fanciers in 41 states.

The dangers of psittacosis—parrot fever—led the government to ban the birds in 1920 but research recently has solved that problem," says R. A. West, pet buyers for F. W. Woolworth. "The birds are quarantined and receive special inoculations and food that eliminates the fever before they are allowed into the U.S." Nine states still have anti-parrot laws on their books. They are Connecticut, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Mississippi, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wyoming.

Dial-a-Diagnosis
FRANKFURT (UPI)—The Hesse State health service has instituted an automatic telephone service which tells callers how to recognize the main symptoms of cancer and stresses that many types of the disease are curable when treated early.

TINY RED HEARTS stamped on Warner's nylon bra and Pettipant coordinate with white cotton gabardine vest suit by Patti Cappelli for Wippette. Blouse is cotton plisse.

By TAD ROWADY

IN THIS era of short and mini skirts, it happens every day! When a trim, chic teenager reaches up, bends down and moves . . . when she gets into a car or steps up into a bus . . . if what's under doesn't match or coordinate with what's over . . . pout! . . . the smart outer illusion evaporates into thin air. From these observations an innovation was born and three companies combined to change the picture drastically.

Actually, it began when Wippette's designer Patti Cappelli wanted the Spring-happy mood of her exciting '68 Spring-Summer collection carried right through to the skin. Patti approached Warner's Junior Intimates Division. They agreed that it was a great idea and went to work with Du Pont to create a collection of inner fashions for four of the Wippette's sportswear groups.

Two of the groups—Hearts 'n' Flowers and Potted Poppies—are pictured here and will give a general idea of the other two in this original plan. All of the lingerie with the exception of the heart print have matching bra, half slip, bikini panties and chemise. In the heart print group, pettipeas replace the chemise.

And, this idea may go a step further. Department stores will be setting up "Skin-Out Shops" which will mark a revolutionary merchandising concept where the matching and coordinating of the "in" fashions with the "outs" will be grouped in one department.

Size are 3 to 13 for the Wippette Sportswear and 5 to 13 for the Warner lingerie.

VIVID RED POPPIES are printed on a glowing saffron dotted Swiss long-sleeved peasant blouse and a billowy scalloped diodi skirt by Patti Cappelli for Wippette. And, if the wind blows? What cooly shows? Why, hem scalloping on Warner's matching voile chemise!

MEN'S WEAR

Mao Interest Displayed In Military-Type Jacket

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wyatt Cooper was frustrated. There was his wife, the former Gloria Vanderbilt, on the list of the 10 best dressed women and he didn't have a thing to wear himself. Specifically, he didn't have a Mao jacket which now is becoming the rage among the rich and fashionable.

He had seen a photograph of Oleg Cassini looking impec-cious dashing in one of these military-type jackets and a white turtle neck sweater and decided that was for him. A call to Cassini elicited the information that Cassini had designed it and it was for sale.

But when Cooper entered the store Cassini had named he found the clerk had never even heard of a Mao jacket. Cooper indignantly called Cassini again and wheels began to turn. He was fitted personally by Henry Schwartz, president of Weber & Helbronner, who informed him the clerk had been re-educated.

For his purposes, Cooper chose a blue-black one for evening wear. But they come in all shapes, sizes and colors and can be worn for sports, weekends in the country, parties at home, and to the office if you don't mind being stared at, and if it isn't an office which specifies collar and tie.

Cassini does not claim to have invented the Mao jacket—it has been worn by the military for centuries and still is worn by cadets at West Point. As a matter of fact it is worn by Mao Tse-tung, for whom it is named, and has been for years.

Sensitive souls (and manufacturers) who do not wish their product to be tainted with such an image call it by other names—such as the Nehru jacket after the late Indian Prime Minister, or the Guru jacket after the Indian yogi.

There is scarcely a designer who has not footed around with a Mao jacket at some time or other—Pierre Cardin made one eight years ago but it never caught on. Cassini says its current popularity can be attributed to in large part to Peter Lawford, who turned up for the Mike Douglas show minus his shirt. Cassini put him in a white, turtle-neck and people liked what they saw.

Everybody in Act

Now everybody is wearing them, including Johnny Carson who helped make the turtle neck popular, and they are beginning to filter down to the masses. New York newspapers currently are filled with ads for the jackets at prices ranging from $50 in navy wool to $160 for a white evening number piped in white silk.

The proper time to wear them? "Well, it is not proper to wear a dark Mao jacket during the daytime—that is for evening," Cassini said. "But you can wear them in the daytime in some fabric such as a twill and in lighter colors. And you can wear them with a turtle-neck or with a shirt and tie."

"The stores were very cautious about buying them. But we sent out about 1,000 without orders to see what would happen. None of them came back, and the reorders are pouring in."

One reason for their increasing popularity, he said, is the fact that name designers have put their names on them.

"I think it will keep its place as a regular model and not become just a fad," Cassini said. "And as more and more men begin wearing it it will be used for daytime." He said he was having one-made for himself in gray flannel which he will wear with an off-white shirt and pink tie, or with a turtle-neck sweater.

What else is Cassini up to in the fashion line? Well, new and expensive pajamas, for one thing, designed as much for looks as for comfort. And a new western-influenced hat, since turtle-neck sweaters look best when worn with a wider brimmed hat. And a western-influenced evening boot—really a bootie which will look well with the slimmed trouser styles.

Wrong Tip
SEATTLE (UPI)—An inept burglar performed a job "weld done" recently when he tried to crack a safe at a baking company.

Detectives found the would-be safecracker used a welding tip instead of a cutting tip on an acetylene torch. He welded the safe closed. Argentina is four times the size of Texas.

Rich Archeological Finds Made by Italians in '67

ROME (UPI)—Italian archeologists were hard at work in the Mediterranean area during 1967. It was a year in which they made important discoveries in five foreign lands and on two of their own islands.

In a summary of work carried out during the year under its direction, Italy's National Council for Research singled out what it called "significant discoveries" in Syria, Egypt,

The Sudan, Tunisia, Malta, Sicily and Sardinia.

Excavations at Tell Mardikh in Syria brought to light the ancient city's wall, which dates back to the third century before Christ. Digging in Tell Mardikh's ancient royal palace, the archeologists also uncovered a large courtyard and several rooms, as well as various sculptures in stone, and terra cotta statues.

At Antinoe in Egypt excavations were carried out around the temple of Ramses II, who reigned from 1292 to 1235 B.C. In addition to successfully dating the ruins, Italian teams discovered fragments of large wine jars that the Greeks brought to Egypt centuries later. The remains of an early church were discovered at Sonqi Tino in The Sudan. Built during the Nubian domination of the area, it was made of brick. On its walls were several well preserved frescoes.

In Tunisia excavating on Tunisia's Cape Bon coast, the Italians found remains of the ancient Roman cities of Madaena and Daga. They also found a Carthaginian fortress at Ras Fortas.

Digging on Malta took place at Tas Silg and St. Paul Mili and on the island of Gozo off Malta. At Tas Silg the excavators found an early Christian basilica and sanctuary and at St. Paul Mili the frescoed wall of a spacious villa. On Gozo they completed unearthing a Carthaginian sanctuary.

At Mozia, an early Carthaginian island settlement off Trapani in Sicily, around 70 stela, inscribed stones and pillars, were found. The writings and drawings on them were Punic.

The ruins of a huge Roman temple were found at Antas on the island of Sardinia. Inscriptions proved it was dedicated to the Sardinian god Sardus Pater and that this god was identified with the Carthaginian god Sid. The Carthaginians ruled Sardinia until the Second Punic War.

NEW YORK (UPI) — An effort to bring international conventions to America and we care

It isn't easy to buy bean coffee!

Nowadays, very few stores offer you bean coffee.

Why does A&P still offer coffees in the bean?

Basically, because "We Care."

Specifically, because we know these facts:

The coffee bean is nature's seal that holds the flavor.

Once that seal is broken by grinding, flavor fades...

NO MATTER HOW IT'S PACKAGED.

The shorter the time between grinding the beans and brewing your coffee, the greater the flavor.

So if you want the finest cup of "The Think Drink" you've ever tasted, buy and brew one of A&P's three Bean Coffee blends...

Eight O'Clock, Red Circle or Bokar.

Not every store can offer you custom-ground bean coffee.

A&P can and does.

Shouldn't A&P be your store?

... WHERE YOUR MONEY WORKS FOR YOU!

Objects of Your Affection Should Be Shown Off

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

FROM A. (antiques) to Z. (zirconia), people—and especially women—are born collectors. They collect buttons, butterflies, coffee cups, pitchers, copper molds, coins, old books (cook, history, old you name it) as well as ke clocks, snuff boxes, pressed glass, stones, all sorts of things.

We even knew a lady who collected antique cuspidors despite the fact, noted her husband wryly, that he hadn't spit since the third grade.

Collecting is, said one admitted addict, a wonderful way of life, a marvelously enjoyable mania.

For the dedicated collector, nothing compares to the thrill of the hunt except, perhaps, the pride of possession that follows "capturing" a find. Dull Or Decorative?

But—and this is a question that confounds many a collector—what happens when you tote home your treasure, which may be anything from a Kangaroo Sofa (mid-19th Century, America) to a circular Springbok puzzle (circa 1967-68, U.S.A.)? There are dull answers to this question . . . and there are decorative ones.

In the case of a Kangaroo Sofa, one assumes you've "just the spot for it" in one of your rooms. But with the circular puzzle, as with so many of the items people collect, where will it wind up? On an out of the way shelf? In an attic? Stashed away in a closet?

Don't Collect Dust

Why let a collection collect dust? Why not use it decoratively to give a setting a personal stamp that says "this is original, this is me."

For example: Show off the many-piece puzzle you've finally put together by mounting it on a table top, framing it for a wall or covering it with plastic for a conversation piece place mat.

Purchase a collector's table and display your rare shells, old coins, paperweights, egg cups or whatever under its glass top.

stunning combination of both, nothing's better for display purposes than a bookcase, one with lighted shelves that spotlight the objects of your affection.

Show Spot

Line the back of a cabinet or shadow box with black or red velvet or gold paper, then use as a show spot for miniatures, marbles or memorabilia of some sort.

Divide a room with a fill-gree panel and, for two-sided interest, hang framed collections of coins, antique pistols, butterflies or autographs back to back so that each side of the divider is a collector's show place.

Decorative For Dining

Decorate a dining room side board with your prize pitchers. Hang a grouping of antique copper cooking molds over the sideboard or use the sideboard, itself, to show off an arrangement of spice or apothecary jars.

Don't stash away your fabulous finds. Share them by showing them off. Maybe you haven't room to display your entire collection but no never mind. Take a tip from museums and change your displays occasionally. In this way, they'll never lose their audience appeal. And, as a plus, changes will spark the kind of attention and comment that keep a "curator" happy.

COLLECTOR'S TABLE from collection by Founders can be used to show off seashells, old coins or other collections.

WHY SEPARATE puzzle pieces once they're together? Springbok circular design makes handsome top for table.

The Lure of Silk

Began More Than Four Thousand Years Ago

WHITE DOTS make a splash on the blue silk fabric shaping the skirt and jacket of this costume. Bodice is silk chiffon.

BLACK, WHITE and yellow daisies printed on silk add dramatic impact to superb slim dress with low, square-shaped back.

BIANCHINI SILK, lavishly printed in chartreuse, coral and yellow, fashions this afternoon dress with three-quarter sleeves and soft pleats flowing from low-cut, bowed back.

By TAD ROWADY

SILK has been a symbol of elegance and beauty ever since its secret was unraveled more than four thousand years ago by Hsiang-shi, the fourteen-year-old bride of Emperor Huang-ti who ruled over China around 2640 B. C.

Weaving its way like a gleaming thread through tales of Oriental splendor and Western majesty all these years, its romantic history reads like a fascinating novel of intrigue and suspense.

Today, silk appears in many delightful, unusual textured fabrics; in solids and prints, blended with other fibers and holds top place in the haute couture world.

Talented designers such as California's Helen Rose whose designs appear here, use silk lovingly, deftly and profusely throughout their collections for enchanting daytime, evening and at-home wear.

These fashions typify her "daytime" feeling for soft and subtle pure silks in glowing colors and vibrant as well as subdued prints. She has a flair for the dramatic which she expresses through the use of unusual fabrics and in chic silhouettes in tune with today's tempo that move graciously and contribute much to a woman's basic femininity.

Plentiful Parts

KING OF PRUSSIA, Pa. (UPI) — When the family driver shifts his car's automatic transmission into drive, as many as 400 mechanical parts are set in motion. There are from 200 to 400 moving parts in various automatic transmissions, more parts than in the car's engine, according to AAMCO Transmissions.

Cops Cop Guns

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Police confiscated 2,098 guns during 1967, an average 5.7 firearms per day. Police Chief Curtis Brostrom cited the stopping of suspicious persons, "thereby getting guns off the street, as they are pulled out for dining."

City Lights: If a view of the city's skyline is part of your apartment's appeal, Mr. Varney suggests: Double its impact at twilight with candlelighting.

First Apartment: Newlyweds should plan ahead, advises the author. A 1 1/2 room apartment is a mistake if there's a baby in immediate plans for the future.

From wall to wall and from floor to ceiling, "You And Your Apartment" is a treasury of tips covering selection of all the furnishings needed to make an empty interior a charming, appealing, attractive home. Better yet, the book begins with words of wisdom on how to start—checking the apartment-for-rent ads in search of a pad in a convenient neighborhood.

Department of Interiors

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

WHEN it comes to good decorating advice, apartment dwellers have been underprivileged. Heretofore all the wise words have been aimed at split-level society, the second-home set and landed gentry.

But now, at long last, an expert has come along to study the department of apartment interiors and give the subject the thorough treatment it deserves. After all, cities and towns, even the nearer suburbs are full of apartments full of people with decorating problems. To help these people and solve their problems, a brilliant and successful young designer/decorator, Carlton Varney has put aside swatches long enough to write "You And Your Apartment" (Bobbs Merrill).

For Troubled Tenants

It's the book for those who need to find, furnish and decorate an apartment for one, two, three or more. It's full of ideas but they're not, wisely warns Mr. Varney, all for you. He tosses them out and invites you to choose the ones that appeal and/or solve problems. It's a help-yourself book that's sure to have something—something tasteful—for you to adopt or adapt.

One of the things that distinguishes this volume from others is the author's young yet sophisticated viewpoint. He has a lively sense of the home scene but not a way-out one, which is not surprising. At 30, Mr. Varney has made his name noteworthy in the field. President of Dorothy Draper & Co., he has decorated hotels here and abroad.

STRIPES ARE here to stay. In this setting they are used vertically by Mr. Varney to make low ceiling seem higher.

In this book, he decorates for you. Here are some of his pet views:

A New Neutral: To the neutral colors—beige, gray, eggshell, white, off-white and black, Mr. Varney adds sky blue. He notes it's the background for the universe and great for a living room, too. Don't Be Bland: Avoid, suggests the author, a "plain vanilla" approach to decorating. It's dull and devoid of interest. Use vanilla, if you like, but spark it with colorful accents.

Check Your Wardrobe: What colors do you want to live with? Check your clothes closet, advises Mr. Varney, and see what shades predominate your wardrobe.

Area Of Interest: Using an area rug under a dining table? Choose one, says Mr. Varney, that is large enough to accommodate table, chairs—and people (the people who'll be sitting on the chairs when

Britain Planning Most Advanced Mailing System

LONDON (UPI)—The British Post Office is introducing a system of mechanized mail handling which it claims will be the most advanced in the world.

The system relies on an integration of several electronic machines connected by conveyor belts—segregators which separate letters, packages and newspapers, automatic letter facers which turn all letters the same way cancelling them, and letter coding machines which imprint phosphorescent dots on the letters based on the destination's "postal code."

The letters then are "read" by automatic letter sorters at a rate of up to 20,000 an hour into individual stacks ready to be placed into bags for dispatch or for postmen to begin their deliveries.

The machines can sort 20,000 items for 20 destinations in an hour, or 7,000 items for 144 destinations. A postal employee can sort from 1,000 to 2,000 items an hour for 48 destinations.

Instead of being handled several times a letter will be sorted only once—by a machine.

"We have designed the machines so they will sort both incoming and outgoing mail wherever other countries have concentrated only on getting mail out of the office," said Stanley Hurrell, senior assistant controller in the London Post Office's building and mechanization branch.

Although only one post office (Norwich, population 118,100) now has the full mechanized system, six post offices have segregators and letter facers machines. At least four post offices in the London area will have all the equipment in two years.

Officials hope the system will be fully operative in 10 years in all the largest offices now handling 75 per cent of the country's mail.

The United Kingdom processes 10,000 letters a year and 240 million packages. One-third originate or pass through the nearly 1,000 square mile Greater London area.

The Key
Key to the whole system is the postal code, groups of letters and numerals that represent the country's nearly 2,000 postal towns. Like the United States' zip code, it is added to the end of an address. Fifteen major towns in Britain already have been allotted codes and three-fourths of all postal addresses will have them by the end of next year.

By introducing the codes now, officials hope to get the public used to them before the letter coding machines are in widespread operation. Operators will then only have to translate the code into the two faint lines of phosphorescent dots.

Officials said they expected to spend 37 million pounds ($88 million) on the new equipment in the next six years. They already have spent 5.7 million pounds ($13.6 million).

Other aids include standardized envelope sizes, small electric trucks for walking postmen making parcel post deliveries, parcel sorting machines and conveyor belt systems connecting railway stations and sorting offices.

Scientists are also developing a machine to "read" addresses written in ordinary hand or typewriting.

Among the most valuable aids is the oldest—the small six and a half mile underground railway that speeds mail between major sorting centers within the city. It is 40 years old.

Reunion

LONDON (UPI) — The "Dambusters" wartime Royal Air Force crews of 617 Squadron, will hold a reunion weekend in London in May to mark the 25th anniversary of their famous bombing raid on the Ruhr dams in Germany.

The Postal Savings System went out of business at midnight June 30, 1967, after more than 56 years of continuous operation.

Travel Briefs

Vaccination Rule
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Evidence of successful smallpox vaccination is not necessary for travelers returning to the United States from Mexico, according to the California State Automobile Association.

The U.S. Public Health Service said this applies only to persons who have visited no other countries than the United States and Mexico for 14 days prior to their border crossing. Tourists who make side trips to Central American nations may still be required to present vaccination certificates at the border.

'Little White House' Attracts Tourists
WARM SPRINGS, Ga. (UPI) — Franklin D. Roosevelt's Little White House hasn't changed much since he died there April 12, 1945. Now, however, it belongs to the government and thousands of tourists walk through the simple, paneled mansion each year.

It was Roosevelt's favorite place, a rustic home on beautiful Pine Mountain. Roosevelt mementoes — ship models, books, riding quirts — adorn every room, and in the entry way, just to the left of the door, stands the sole reminder of his affliction, a wheelchair.

The first accession to the United States was the Louisiana Purchase.

Dick Van Dyke will be the master of ceremonies for the New York City end of the broadcast of the 20th annual Television Academy Awards on NBC May 19. Frank Sinatra previously was set to do the honors in Hollywood.

"The Name of the Game" is an ambitious weekly 90-minute program for NBC next fall that the network says will be of the quality of its currently periodic "World Premiere" series of "movies for television." The weekly series stems from a singleton, "Pama Is the Name of the Game," which was a "World Premiere" offering on NBC in November, 1966. It deals with the operations of a world-girdling publishing empire and will have three major continuing characters to be played by Tony Franciosa, Robert Stack and Gene Barry. Each will star in at least eight episodes. Susan Saint James, who, like Franciosa, was in the pilot play, also will be in the series.

The NBC "Star Trek" series will be in a new time period next fall—Mondays from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. It is now on at 8:30 p.m. Fridays. The network originally had intended to scrap the series, but audience
